EDD removes the need for these external extensions through their new Virtual Printer and Content Analysis technology. Now, end-users simply have to select the Messenger EDD Printer Driver.

The output is routed to the server component where the documents are simultaneously printed, routed, assembled, e-mailed, faxed, ftp and/or archived according to that document's workflow script, and then automatically delivered to the intended recipient(s) based upon their preferred method of delivery.

Liaison Messenger EDD has a setup and an installation wizard for: Microsoft Dynamics GP, SL, AX and NAV as well as Sage AccPac, MAS90, MAS500, X3 and PFW which assists the installer for rapid implementation and deployment.

For In-House or Ad-Hoc developed reports and systems, Messenger EDD also has built-in integration tools for Crystal Reports, SQL Reporting Services, SQL Server® and Adobe Form-Fillable PDF files.
